Dawn De'Harmony brought her Seasons of Gratitude journaling books! Dawn's books blend gentle guidance with a warm, reflective tone that makes personal growth feel approachable. Her prompts often encourage readers to slow down, notice their inner world, and build a more compassionate relationship with themselves.

Mirrors to light up your space

Mirrors slip into spring like secret stylists, scattering sunlight in playful flashes that make every room feel suddenly awake and a little bit enchanted.

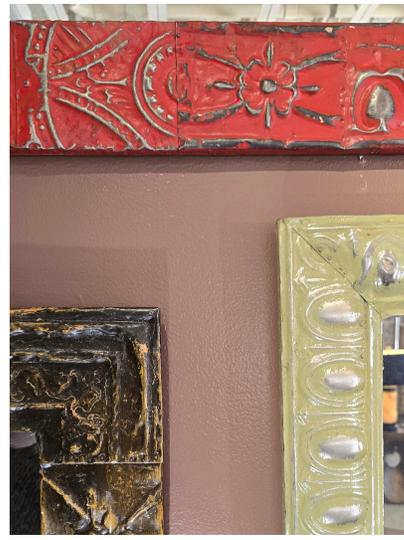

Glassboat's mirror collection is a little like a treasure hunt in reflections—wooden frames with warmth, antiqued edges with attitude, leather-wrapped silhouettes, ceiling-tin shimmer, and countless other styles that turn a simple glance into a moment worth lingering over.

RED Thread Sweaters

Sue Peterson's Red Thread Sweaters feel like stepping into a cozy, memory-stitched world where every garment carries a heartbeat. Sue weaves together family lore, quiet resilience, and the small, luminous moments that shape a life, all through the simple act of knitting. The result is warm, textured storytelling that wraps around you like a favorite sweater—soft, familiar, and surprisingly profound.

These beauties will only be here for a few weeks so get here before they're gone!
